

1. Choose a Topic or Theme

- Start with an idea: Think about what you want your story to be about. It could be an adventure, a friendship, a mystery, or even a lesson you've learned.

- Pick a setting : Decide where and when your story takes place. Is it in a magical forest, a school, or in outer space?

2. Create Characters

- Main Character: Decide who the main character (hero or heroine) is. Describe their appearance, personality, and what makes them unique.

- Supporting Characters: Think about who else is in the story. Are there friends, family, or even animals that help or challenge the main character?

3. Plan the Plot (Storyline)

- Beginning: Start by introducing the main character and setting. What is the main character's normal life like before the story's action begins?

- Problem/Conflict: Introduce a problem or challenge that the main character needs to solve. This is what makes the story interesting!

- Middle (Climax): Show how the main character tries to solve the problem. There might be obstacles or difficulties along the way.

- Ending (Resolution): Conclude the story by showing how the problem is solved. What happens to the main character? How has he/she changed?

4. Write in Paragraphs

- Start a new paragraph: Each time something new happens, like a new event or when a different character speaks.

- Use descriptive language: Describe what the characters see, feel, hear, and do to make the story more interesting.

5. Use Dialogue

- Talking in the story: Let your characters talk to each other. This can show their personalities and make the story more lively.

- Punctuation: Use quotation marks to show when someone is speaking. For example: "Let's go on an adventure!" said Ravi.

6. Add Details

- Be creative: Add details about the setting, characters, and events to make your story come alive. What does the place look like? How do the characters feel?

7. Revise and Edit

- Check your work: After writing, read your story to make sure it makes sense. Check for spelling and grammar mistakes.

- Make improvements: If something doesn't seem right, don't be afraid to change it. Good writing often comes from revising your work.

8. Share Your Story

- Read it aloud: Share your story with friends, family, or your teacher. See how they react and listen to any suggestions they might have.

- Illustrate: You can even add drawings to go with your story!

Example Story Outline

- Title: The Lost Treasure

- Beginning: Sam is a curious boy who loves adventures. One day, he finds an old map in his attic.

- Middle: Sam follows the map to a dark forest. Along the way, he meets a talking parrot who helps him.

- Problem: They find the treasure but it's guarded by a giant snake.

- Solution: Sam uses his cleverness to trick the snake and get the treasure.

- Ending: Sam returns home with the treasure and shares it with his village, becoming a hero.

Write a story on the basis of following points.

Hints [Given as Questions]: A poor woodcutter's axe slipped and fell into a river--a god heard him cry and wanted to help him--he dived into the river and brought a gold axe for him--the honest woodcutter did not take this axe--the god again went down into the river and brought up a silver axe, which the honest woodcutter refused to accept--the god was very pleased and gave him his own axe as well as the gold and silver axes.
