

"The Talkative Barber"

1. Why was the barber called to the Sultan's palace? a) To tell a story

b) To cut the Sultan's hair

c) To give advice

d) To bring food

2. What did the barber do instead of starting his work?

a) Told endless stories

b) Ate food

c) Went to sleep

d) Argued with the Sultan

3. How did the Sultan feel about the barber's talking?

a) He was entertained

b) He was angry and impatient

c) He ignored the barber

d) He enjoyed it

4. What did the barber demand before starting his work?

a) Water to drink

b) Food to eat

c) Money

d) A new chair

5. How many brothers did the barber have?

a) Two

b) Four

c) Six

d) Eight

6. Why did the Sultan try to hurry the barber?

- a) He was late for a meeting
- b) He had to attend a feast
- c) He was tired of waiting
- d) He needed to go for a walk

7. What was the barber's profession?

- a) A storyteller
- b) A cook
- c) A barber
- d) A teacher

8. What did the barber continue to do even after the Sultan's warnings?

- a) Shave the Sultan quickly
- b) Tell more stories
- c) Leave the palace
- d) Bring food

9. How did the Sultan finally react to the barber's behavior?

- a) He listened patiently
- b) He banished the barber
- c) He laughed along
- d) He became angry and asked him to stop

10. What lesson can we learn from "The Talkative Barber"?

- a) Patience is important
- b) Talking too much can be annoying
- c) Work is more important than talking
- d) All of the above

Short Questions

1. Why was the barber called to the Sultan's palace?
2. How did the barber delay starting his work?
3. What did the barber ask for before starting to shave the Sultan?
4. How many brothers did the barber have?
5. What was the Sultan's reaction to the barber's constant talking?

Value Based question

Q: What value can we learn from the Sultan's reaction to the barber's constant talking, and how can we apply it in our daily lives?

Answers (V.B.Q)

AmThe Sultan shows the value of patience when he listens to the barber's endless talk despite being in a hurry. However, he also demonstrates that patience has limits, as he eventually asks the barber to stop. We can apply this in our daily lives by being patient with others, especially when they talk or behave in ways that may be annoying. But, when necessary, we should also politely ask them to stop if it becomes too much. This teaches us the balance between tolerance and assertiveness.

Short Questions

1. Why was the barber called to the Sultan's palace?

The barber was called to the Sultan's palace to shave the Sultan.

2. How did the barber delay starting his work?

The barber delayed his work by talking endlessly and telling stories instead of starting the shave.

3. What did the barber ask for before starting to shave the Sultan?

The barber asked for food to eat before he would begin shaving the Sultan.

4. How many brothers did the barber have?

The barber had six brothers.

5. What was the Sultan's reaction to the barber's constant talking?

The Sultan became angry and impatient with the barber's constant talking.