

Case study

Class 5 Evs

A snake charmers story

Paheli remembers her childhood days when there were snake charmers and madaris all around entertaining people , but Paheli never stopped wondering where does these animals come from. But after she got to know how they are captured and taken away from their home and family to entertain people it really broke her heart .When she got to know about the torture they endure she thought of doing something about it . Today Paheli is a Journalist and she feels really happy about the law made by the government against catching or killing wild animals.

1.Which of the following tribe are well known for snake charming.

A. Limbu

B. Kalbelia

C. Santhal

D. All of them

2. What problem is faced by animals which are caught or hunted in high number ?

A. They become endangered

B. They become extinct

C. Their survival becomes harder

D. All of them

3.Mention any three problems faced by animals which are captured for entertainment?

4."Animal numbers were quickly going down". Mention any two ways in which government has helped in saving them ?

5.After the new law made by the government. How do the community of snake charmers earn their livelihood?