Dear Ankita,

I think this letter of mine finds you in the pink of health and happy spirit. I am fine. Yesterday I celebrated my birthday and my parents gifted me a beautiful talking toy.

Today, I am excited to share with you about my new talking toy bird. The parrot is very lively and green in colour. It mimics exactly the same words that we speak. It has a switch to let it come to action. It has feathers on its body. I like to play with it. I am eager to show it to you.

Enough for today. I am waiting to meet you soon. Convey my regards to your parents.

Yours lovingly,
(Your first name)
