

Affirmative -----> Negative

1. The principal appreciated the students because they completed the entire cleanliness drive sincerely despite the unbearable heat outside.
2. Every student in the auditorium admired the motivational speech delivered by the chief guest during the annual programme.
3. The old wooden bridge was too weak after the flood to be used by the villagers for travelling to the nearby market.
4. The new employee answered all the complicated questions confidently during the interview before the selection committee.
5. All the residents of the locality supported the government's decision to build a new hospital near the railway station.
6. The lecture delivered by the scientist was too technical for many students to understand several important concepts properly.
7. The injured player was too exhausted after the long practice session to continue participating in the tournament.
8. The villagers considered the newly constructed bridge completely safe even during the heavy monsoon season.
9. Everybody in the debate competition recognized the intelligence and confidence displayed by the young participant from Class XII.

10. The professor delivered a very clear explanation of the theory although the topic was extremely complicated and abstract.
11. The suitcase carried by the traveller was too heavy for the porter to lift without assistance from others.
12. The weather became too stormy near the seashore for the fishermen to sail into the deep waters safely.
13. Every teacher in the school appreciated the dedication with which the volunteers organized the inter-school cultural programme.
14. Each member of the rescue team followed the instructions carefully while carrying out the operation during the severe storm.
15. The young athlete remained calm and confident throughout the final match against the defending champions.
16. Everyone present in the meeting agreed that the new educational policy would benefit rural students significantly in the future.
17. The chairman willingly accepted the proposal after listening carefully to the suggestions made by the senior members of the committee.
18. As soon as the teacher entered the classroom, the students stopped talking and arranged their books properly on the desks.

19. Only an experienced negotiator can resolve such a sensitive international dispute without creating further misunderstanding between the two countries.
20. The senior scientist alone understood the complex calculations involved in the research project conducted by the laboratory team.
21. As soon as the electricity returned after the storm, the children resumed their online classes without further delay.
22. Kolkata is the busiest metropolitan cities in eastern India during the festive season.
23. Students have to submit the completed projects before the last date mentioned by the examination department.
24. We must protect the environment carefully if we want future generations to live safely and peacefully.
25. The travellers had to wait patiently at the airport because all the flights were delayed due to dense fog.
26. As soon as the principal entered the auditorium, the students stood up respectfully and maintained complete silence throughout the programme.
27. As soon as the heavy rain stopped, the rescue team started distributing food and medicines among the affected villagers.

28. Only a person with strong determination can continue working honestly under such difficult and challenging circumstances.
29. The old caretaker alone knew the exact location where the confidential documents had been hidden many years ago.
30. As soon as the final bell rang, the participants rushed towards the playground to begin the inter-house football match.
31. As soon as the scientist completed his presentation, several journalists surrounded him with difficult and thought-provoking questions.
32. As soon as the train arrived at the station, the passengers hurried towards the exit carrying their heavy luggage.
33. As soon as the news of the scholarship results spread across the school, the teachers congratulated the successful students warmly.

Affirmative → Negative Answers

1. The principal did not fail to appreciate the students because they completed the entire cleanliness drive sincerely despite the unbearable heat outside.
2. No student in the auditorium failed to admire the motivational speech delivered by the chief guest during the annual programme.

3. The old wooden bridge was not strong enough after the flood to be used by the villagers for travelling to the nearby market.
4. The new employee did not fail to answer all the complicated questions confidently during the interview before the selection committee.
5. None of the residents of the locality opposed the government's decision to build a new hospital near the railway station.
6. The lecture delivered by the scientist was not simple enough for many students to understand several important concepts properly.
7. The injured player was too exhausted after the long practice session not to discontinue participating in the tournament.
8. The villagers did not consider the newly constructed bridge unsafe even during the heavy monsoon season.
9. Nobody in the debate competition failed to recognize the intelligence and confidence displayed by the young participant from Class XII.
10. The professor did not deliver an unclear explanation of the theory although the topic was extremely complicated and abstract.
11. The suitcase carried by the traveller was not light enough for the porter to lift without assistance from others.

12. The weather did not remain calm near the seashore for the fishermen to sail into the deep waters safely.
13. Nobody in the school failed to appreciate the dedication with which the volunteers organized the inter-school cultural programme.
14. Each member of the rescue team did not ignore the instructions while carrying out the operations during the severe storm.
15. The young athlete did not lose calm and confidence throughout the final match against the defending champions.
16. Nobody present in the meeting disagreed that the new educational policy would benefit rural students significantly in the future.
17. The chairman did not unwillingly accept the proposal after listening carefully to the suggestions made by the senior members of the committee.
18. As soon as the teacher entered the classroom, the students did not continue talking and arranged their books properly on the desks.
19. No inexperienced negotiator can resolve such a sensitive international dispute without creating further misunderstanding between the two countries.
20. No junior scientist understood the complex calculations involved in the research project conducted by the laboratory team.

21. As soon as the electricity returned after the storm, the children did not delay resuming their online classes.
22. Kolkata is not one of the less busy metropolitan cities in eastern India during the festive season.
23. Students must not fail to submit the completed projects before the last date mentioned by the examination department.
24. We must not neglect the environment if we want future generations to live safely and peacefully.
25. The travellers could not leave the airport early because the flights were delayed due to dense fog.
26. As soon as the principal entered the auditorium, the students did not remain seated and maintained complete silence throughout the programme.
27. As soon as the heavy rain stopped, the rescue team did not delay distributing food and medicines among the affected villagers.
28. No person without strong determination can continue working honestly under such difficult and challenging circumstances.
29. No one except the old caretaker knew the exact location where the confidential documents had been hidden many years ago.
30. As soon as the final bell rang, the participants did not remain inside the classroom and rushed towards the playground to begin the inter-house football match.

31. As soon as the scientist completed his presentation, several journalists did not hesitate to surround him with difficult and thought-provoking questions.
32. As soon as the train arrived at the station, the passengers did not walk slowly towards the exit carrying their heavy luggage.
33. As soon as the news of the scholarship results spread across the school, the teachers did not fail to congratulate the successful students warmly.